SUBJECT: Judicial Council, Annual Appointment of Members

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The State Bar appoints four lawyer members to the Judicial Council for three-year terms. The terms of Rachel Hill and Gretchen Nelson will expire on September 14, 2020. It is recommended that the Board reappoint Rachel Hill and appoint David Fu to fill these two upcoming vacancies.

BACKGROUND

The Judicial Council, a state constitutional agency established in 1926, provides policy direction to the courts, the Governor, and the Legislature concerning court practice, procedure, and administration. The Council consists of the Chief Justice, one associate justice of the Supreme Court, three justices of the Courts of Appeal, ten judges of the superior courts, four lawyers appointed by the State Bar, one member appointed by the legislative leaders in each house of the Legislature, two nonvoting court administrators, and other nonvoting positions as determined by the Council. See California Rules of Court, rule 10.2.

Terms and membership of the Judicial Council are set by the State Constitution. The lawyer members serve staggered three-year terms, with terms beginning September 15 and ending September 14. Members receive no compensation for services, but are reimbursed by the Council for approved travel expenses in accordance with the reimbursement schedule for state employees. The new members of the Council typically are invited to the Council's May or June meeting and must be able to attend the orientation, which is usually held in conjunction with the Council's August meeting.

Service on the Judicial Council is a significant time commitment approximating 300 hours per year for meetings and assignments. Each year the Council meets six to eight times, with the meetings typically set for two days (usually Thursday and Friday). Members serve on one of the Council's internal committees, which meet frequently at a convenient location or by conference call. In addition, Council members are assigned special tasks, which are supported by staff, and may serve as a liaison to the Council's Advisory committees.

The current State Bar appointees to the Judicial Council and the dates their terms expire are as follows:

1	Pritt, Maxwell	Oakland	2019–2022
2	Kelly, Patrick M	Los Angeles	2015–2021
3	Hill, Rachel W.	Fresno	2017–2020
4	Nelson, Gretchen M.	Los Angeles	2017–2020

A chronological list of the State Bar's appointments to the Judicial Council is found at Attachment A.

DISCUSSION

Criteria deemed important for the lawyer member's service on the Council include broad experience in the legal field, including trial experience, credibility as a leader both within the home county and statewide, collegial working relationships, and a demonstrated interest in, and experience with court administration issues. Another important consideration is the applicant's ability to make the time commitment.

In the last year, the Supreme Court has taken a more active role in assisting the State Bar in identifying suitable and qualified candidates to serve on the Judicial Council. We have learned that the Supreme Court prefers the reappointment of members who have proven their value to the Judicial Council; reappointment of high-value contributing members of the Council brings the distinct benefits of experience, expertise, institutional awareness, and continuity. Current Judicial Council members whose terms are expiring in 2020, Gretchen Nelson and Rachel Hill, were identified by the Court as members who should be considered for reappointment. Gretchen Nelson found her experience on the Judicial Council extremely rewarding, but decided to step aside after conferring with the Court to open up the opportunity for others. Rachel Hill is interested in serving another term. After consultation with the Supreme Court, it is recommended that the Board of Trustees reappoint Rachel Hill and appoint David Fu to fill the 2020 vacancies.

Rachel Hill

Rachel Hill has practiced for 29 years in criminal law and civil mediation. She is a board member on the Victim Offender Reconciliation Program, a restorative justice program in Fresno. She also serves on the advisory board of the Adult Re-Entry Program, a program that assists the formerly incarcerated upon release from prison. Ms. Hill is a member of various state, local, and affinity bar associations. During her first term on the Judicial Council, Ms. Hill was assigned to two permanent committees, the Technology Committee and the Rules and Projects Committee. She was also asked to serve on The Chief Justice's Working Group to Amend Rule 10.500 and The Chief Justice's Working Group for the Prevention of Discrimination and Harassment in the Judiciary. As a woman practicing in the Central Valley, with broad-based legal experience in civil litigation and criminal prosecution and defense, Ms. Hill brings a unique and critically important voice and perspective to the work of the Judicial Council. Ms. Hill's 2017 application was accompanied by a letter of support from Justice Brad Hill of the Fifth District Court of Appeal who described Ms. Hill (no relation) as a greatly respected, brilliant attorney, creative problem solver, consensus builder and strategic thinker, and believed she would be a great asset to the Council.

David Fu

Mr. Fu is real estate lawyer and the principal of David Fu and Associates, a four attorney real estate and business law firm located in Arcadia, California. He assists and advises clients concerning real estate, general business transactions and litigation, and estate planning. Before practicing law, David was a commercial investment real estate broker, in both conventional and sealed-bid auction sale formats. Mr. Fu is a frequent speaker before real estate professional organizations and the State Bar, and served on the Real Property Advisory Committee for the Continuing Education of the State Bar, the publishing entity of the State Bar. Mr. Fu served as the Co-Chair of the Real Property Law Section of the State Bar of California for 2012–2013, and as the 2017–2018 Chair of the State Bar of California Commission on Judicial Nominees Evaluation. In 2018, Mr. Fu was honored at the Attorney of the Year by the Small Firm and Solo Section of the California Lawyers Association. Mr. Fu has a long expressed interest in service to the bar and the court system, having served the bar for twenty of his twenty-four years in practice. He believes that the Judicial Council offers a remarkable opportunity to serve and shape the courts of California.
