RE: Preliminary Allocation for February 2016 California Bar Examination

Dear Dean:

The following lists all February 2016 California Bar Examination applicants allocated to your law school. It will assist us in preparing accurate statistics if you would verify the validity of the listing and provide any corrections. The deadline for receipt of corrections is March 21, 2016.

Although the preliminary allocation list indicates all applicants that submitted an application to take the February 2016 California Bar Examination, the final allocation, which will be mailed at a later date will list only those applicants allocated to your law school that actually sat for the examination.

You, or your designee, should submit by the deadline, confirmation that the list is correct, or if corrections need to be made. Send confirmation that the list is correct or suggested correction(s) by email to: admissions.la@calbar.ca.gov. If you have questions, you may send those using the same email or telephone Ms. Patricia Salazar at (213) 765-1524.

The State Bar of California Office of Admissions thanks you for your assistance.

The comparative index is based solely on first time takers. Results for schools with fewer than 30 students may be unreliable and should be interpreted with caution. The first column indicates the extent to which a school's mean score was higher or lower than the mean of all California first timers. The last column shows the corresponding results for your school type. Index scores usually range between -1.00 and +1.00. Regardless of their algebraic sign, values between 1.00 and 2.00 are considered large and those over 2.00 are very large. A positive value indicates the school's mean is above the reference group (e.g., all California first timers). A negative value indicates the opposite. The comparative index allows for direct comparisons among the various parts of the examination by controlling for differences in test difficulty and score spread among these sections. The formula for computing the index value for the first column is as follows:

The formula for computing the index value for the last column is as follows:

$$\text{Index} = (\text{Your school's mean} - \text{Your school type's mean}) / \text{Your school type's standard deviation}$$
